

Planting Diary 1

By Jack

2018.11—Relaxing time

I just came back from EXPO in Germany, during I was in EXPO of Germany, daily life in the busy and tight pace there, and I always thought how I should do to provide physical and mental relaxation after I am off duty. I think it's a good idea that to make green by planting my home with plants for relaxing.....

Living room

I'm proud to show you my GrowWalls which are products of OPCOM Farm in my living room. I've planted some mints and basils in my GrowWalls. A thick growth of mints and basils covered my GrowWalls because of water recycle and adjustable LED lights provided from my GrowWalls. The thick growth of mints and basils may be as a nursery garden for providing some nursery to plant my house.

GrowWall photo by Jack

Gym

During I do some exercises in my gym, an idea came into my head suddenly. How enjoy happiness and wonderful life is while I do exercises and breathe fresh air released from the fresh plants. Therefore, I transplant some mints and basils from my GrowWalls disposed in the living room to an O2-Light disposed in my gym.

O2-Light photo by Jack

Everyone loves Feng Shui!!!!

Mints and basil which are planted and receive enough LED lights and water recycle of the O2-Light disposed in my gym grow very fast and have long size. I design mints as an herb fall in front side of my O2-Light and basil as a basil wall in back side of my O2-Light to form a Feng Shui pattern that everyone loves, it means that the water (money) is coming my home and a mountain (storehouse) is receiving and saving. Most Feng Shui enthusiasts know that it is favorable if a house is backed by a hill or higher land and faces water (e.g. lake) or a lower terrain. Such a configurable is good for money, relationship and health luck.

Good Health, Good taste, Good Luck!!!!

After exercises, it's my tea time. I often cut one or two branches of mints for my tea and eat salad with basils for enhance the taste, good health, good taste and good luck!!!!