Slight Snow is gone, Great Snow has not come yet.

Ru Meng Ling

By Li Qingzhao

Last night the rain was light, the wind fierce,
And deep sleep did not dispel the effects of wine.
When I ask the maid rolling up the curtains,
She answers, "The crab-apple blossoms look the same."
I cry, "Can't you see? Can't you see?
The green leaves are fresh but the red flowers are fading!"
(杨宪益、戴乃迭 译)

Thanks to the futuristic technology over the years, human beings can face severe environmental pollution challenges around the world by this tech. whether light snow or great snow outside. You can enjoy hydroponic innocuous vegetables at home elegantly and confidently.

If Li Qingzhao was born on present generation, perhaps she may not write such a beautiful tune.

GrowBox2

The design of this GrowBox2 (OFG001-2) is amazing and awesome! This product merges hydroponic technology of futuristic technology. The size of the GrowBox2 matches a table, and the weight of the GrowBox2 may be lifted up by two hands of a person.

There are some advantages of GrowBox2, such as the LED light spectrum is designed for vegetables, circulation fan with ultra-quiet and high efficiency and smart controlling system. I don't have any experience about planting, but I just press an Auto button of the GrowBox2 and get more and more vegetables planted from GrowBox2 after ten days. After work, my boredom will be disappeared suddenly when I see red lettuce of the GrowBox2 disposed in my dormitory grow very well.
