

OPCOMFARM & BOB ROSS, INC. ANNOUNCE
OPCOMFARM GROWBOX STERLING, VA SCHOOL
INITIATIVE

OPCOMFarm is pleased to announce its new partnership with Joan Kowalski, President of Bob Ross Inc., one of America's most iconic internationally known paint brand and instruction.

Our relationship began when Joan Kowalski heard of the success of Loudoun County's YMCA After-School GrowBox program and immediately stated "I want to provide the GrowBox to my Sterling, VA schools".

The OPCOMFarm GrowBox program was developed and facilitated by Jannie Wray, YMCA Site Director at Rolling Ridge Elementary School and recipient of a GrowBox donation. Twenty-five children attended the after-school program which was supported by cafeteria and Rolling Ridge Elementary School personnel. One of the highlights of the program was a visit by a local chef to prepare a meal that featured lettuce grown by the children in the GrowBox. For some, it was their first time tasting freshly grown lettuce.

Joan Kowalski (Bob Ross Inc.) and OPCOMFARM will kick off the Sterling, VA GrowBox program with five local schools and be facilitated by Jannie Wray, Independent Consultant.

Here is the successful story from Sterling Elementary School. Good job kids. Eat Healthy and keep learning.
